

Get Your Juvenile Record Expunged

Don't let your record haunt you in the future

You can get your juvenile court, law enforcement and related agency (DHS or OYA, etc.) records removed and destroyed or sealed, in many cases, through a process called expunction.

For juvenile records in Oregon

- Clinic services and application are free of charge.
- Clinic is staffed by Youth, Rights & Justice and the Criminal Justice Reform Clinic.
- Clinic staff will help get your request submitted properly to the court.
- Many persons have been discriminated against in employment, educational opportunities, housing and enlistment in the military service due to a juvenile court record.
- Expunction is not possible for some serious offenses.
- A waiting period from your last case termination may be required.
- Once your record is expunged you can deny the incident occurred and say the record does not exist.
